CHURCH HYMNS

The Offenbach Trio has almost instant access to all church hymns published in The Australian Hymn Book and to most hymns from other sources. These are too numerous to mention individually, but if you would like to hear some hymns at your function, just ask – we can even provide a singer!

To get an idea of what a classical piece sounds like, visit <http://www.classicalarchives.com/midi.html>. There you will be able to listen to and download MIDIs (Musical Instrument Digital Interfaces) quickly and cheaply. It's a massive website with all music being catalogued by composer's name.

TOTAL PLAYING TIME WITHOUT BREAKS: 8 hrs approx.
LAST UPDATED: January 2009

To get an idea of what a contemporary song sounds like, simply enter the name of the song followed by "midi" into <http://www.google.com>. If it has been sequenced, you will find numerous fan sites of the song where you can listen to and download the MIDI. Remember that MIDI files are there just to give you an idea for identification purposes. MIDI files are not actual recordings, but just use your computer's sound card and speakers. When the Offenbach Trio plays a piece/song live, it will sound infinitely better!
